

Catherine Reed Retires As County School Head

By Carolyn Miller

The retirement this month of Mrs. Catherine T. Reed from the position of elementary school supervisor for Prince Georges County will remind many Greenbelt residents of her service here from 1937 to 1943 as the first principal of the Greenbelt elementary school.

It was an unusual assignment—to set up a school in a new and experimental town, which would meet the needs of the families and contribute to the community's growth. Mrs. Reed accepted the challenge with enthusiasm and achieved recognition far beyond the town limits for her accomplishments.

In an interview with Mrs. Reed this week, The Cooperator learned that when the doors of the school opened in the fall of 1937 there were only forty children and seven teachers. By the close of the year there were 250 children and ten teachers. Mrs. Reed said that she had a real advantage in starting with a small group and that the new pupils coming in gradually soon became a part of the group. The principal and teachers were able to talk over new community problems with the children and encourage them to meet the problems constructively.

Children Wrote Rules

For one thing, Mrs. Reed said, there was the problem of bicycling on the sidewalks. It was becoming a hazard to the younger children. In a frank, easy discussion with the school children, a suggestion was made by them which later became a city ordinance: no bicycle riding on the sidewalk. Many of the city regulations now in existence came from the children themselves.

Also, much was done through the schools in guiding the children to a real pride in their town, and to an understanding and appreciation of the planning behind Greenbelt. Mrs. Reed said that she was an admirer of Rexford Tugwell who had so much to do with the building of the community, and that it was a joy to her to have a part in the early days here.

"There were no traditions in Greenbelt," she commented, "and those of us who worked in the school realized that we must build our own traditions."

Working with a small group of children in a new community, Mrs. Reed said they were able to use new methods. As an example, she told of the time when a newspaper photographer asked if he could take a picture of the children marching through the door at the end of the school day. He was amazed when Mrs. Reed said they didn't file out in order but left the school as they chose as long as they were reasonably quiet and orderly. In 1937 there were few schools without the requirement of strict two-by-two routine in leaving school.

Continues Other Duties

When Mrs. Reed left the Greenbelt school in 1943 she became supervisor of elementary education for the county, and she has served in this capacity until this spring. Although retiring from this position, she will continue as coordinator between the county and the Institute of Child Study at the University of Maryland. Her influence on the schools of Prince Georges County will still be felt.

Willcox Announces Opening Of Sales Campaign For Ridgewood Homes

Helwig Child Scalded In Unusual Mishap

A small child was severely burned last week when she fell in a puddle of scalding water and oil in the woods near her home.

Germaine Helwig, year-and-a-half-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helwig, 2-G Research, was returning from the North End store with her brother when she reached a small ditch covered with boards. According to her mother, she was too small to cross over the boards and in trying to go around them she passed in front of pipes leading from a boiler room in the area. Hot water and some oil from the pipe scalded her. She fell into the puddle. Her screams attracted a neighbor who came to her assistance.

Taken to the Prince Georges County hospital, examination disclosed second- and third-degree burns around the legs and thighs. She was later transferred to the Bethesda Naval hospital, where she is to undergo skin-grafting.

Ralph Webster, president of Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation, which owns the pipes, disclosed that "blowing out the pipes" has been a daily occurrence for the past 12 years. He called the incident unfortunate; something that can happen "once in a thousand years." Liability insurance carried by the corporation, Webster declared, will cover the costs of the accident.

In order to prevent future accidents of this type, the cleaning of pipes from the boiler rooms will now take place late at night, near midnight, Webster added. Later the pipes will be fitted into tanks buried in the ground. At present, pipes from various boiler rooms, often 200 feet in length, lead onto federal property, in wooded areas, and are partly hidden by underbrush.

Germaine's father is in the Navy; he is a medical photographer at the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology. The Helwigs have resided in Greenbelt since 1947.

School Ends June 10

Thursday, June 10, marks the last full day of school for this school year. Children will return to school at 9 a.m. Tuesday, June 15 for their Grade Placement Cards. Dismissal will be at 9:30 a.m. Students entering another school next fall must have the grade placement cards with them. Please notify the school before June 15 if any transfers are needed, so that the transfer can be ready with the grade placement card.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Ralph Bradfield Forrester, Beltsville, and Elizabeth Zoe Fulks, Greenbelt.

Willcox, speaking at the quarterly meeting of the Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corp., reported that homes in the two-section, 101-home project would sell for $11,900. The required down payment on these homes has been set at $500 based on a 40-year mortgage at 4 1/4 percent.

Willcox explained that, at least for the time being, both veterans and non-veterans would be eligible for this financing arrangement. The monthly payments, including all taxes, will be $89.

The homes are three bedrooms having a total space of slightly less than one thousand square feet. The size of the living room will be 13 by 19, the kitchen will have about 100 square feet, and two of the bedrooms will have over 100 square feet.

The lots for the homes are 75 feet or more by 120 feet or an average of about 9,000 square feet. Willcox stated that both the living space and area of the lot are considerably larger than homes of similar price in the Washington area.

The model home for The Ridgewood development will be located across from the Lake parking area and north to the dirt road extension of Ridge Rd., the model home for the project will be shortly erected beside the Woodland model home now situated on Northway.

Big Fourth of July Celebrated On 5th

Independence Day will be celebrated on Monday, July 5, in Greenbelt this year. Activities planned for the holiday are a parade, speeches, games, races, entertainment, bingo, fire-works, and a midnight swim. It is expected to be the largest Independence Day celebration in Greenbelt's history.

Arrangements for the parade, which will start at 10 a.m., are being completed by Austin Green, grand marshal. Dr. Harry Byrd, University of Maryland ex-president and candidate in the primaries for the gubernatorial election, will speak from the pavilion at the lake at 11:45, following the parade.

The Boys Club will preside over activities at the lake for the rest of the afternoon, with refreshments, races, games, and bingo, starting at 1 p.m. A huge fireworks display will begin promptly at 9 p.m. A midnight swim for adults only is planned from 10-12 at the city pool.

Civic groups and children who wish to enter the parade with floats or decorated bikes and vehicles are requested to contact Officer Green at the police station. Prizes will be given for the best entries.

Cooperating with the Boys Club this year to make the local Independence Day a memorable one will be the city and Greenbelt Consumer Services. In previous years, July 4 has marked a city-wide celebration of fun and frolic lasting all day. The swimming pool, See FOURTH, Page 3

Correction

Last week's "Our Neighbors" column stated that Mrs. Barbara Arroyo, who won an electric stove at the Pepco demonstration, was not "believed to be a Greenbelter." I am happy to correct this wrong impression. Mr. and Mrs. Arroyo, 36-B Ridge, have been living in Greenbelt for the past 14 years!

Another name which got fouled up was Mrs. William Feller (not Mrs. W. Vello) who won the bathing suit.

Attending the 170th session of the Baltimore annual conference of the Methodist church at Western Maryland college, Westminster, June 3-6 were Rev. C. R. Strausburg and Mrs. Seibert D Meade of Greenbelt.

The School of Engineering and Architecture of the Catholic University of America on June 8 conferred the Bachelor of Architecture degree upon LeGrand Alfred Benefiel, 1-F Gardenway.

Letters to the Editor

THANKS

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the many people who worked to make the drive for the American Cancer Society a big success. The Welfare Committee of the Women's Club sponsors this drive; but if it were not for the cooperation given to it by members of the Navy Wives, National Council of Jewish Women, the Sodality of St. Hugh's Church and many others, we could not do the job. Special thanks go to the teachers and pupils of Greenbelt Junior High who led the list of organizations. We'll be seeing you next year!

Mrs. A. C. Long.

"THANKS TO YOU" WEEK

To the Editor:

The Girl Scouts of Prince Georges County wish to thank the many contributors for their financial backing through their contributions to the 1954 Community Chest Fund.

Through your support, more than 5000 Girl Scouts in Prince Georges County are learning to enjoy and share the experience of cooking and camping in the out-of-doors, taking part in community service, planning activities and working together with other girls their age, and learning of many new interests and skills.

BRL Picture Taking Sat. In Full Dress

Babe Ruth Leaguers of Greenbelt had that long-awaited night Tuesday when they received their stunning new baseball uniforms which the Co-op generously purchased for them. Coaches Don Wolfe and Bill Moore issued the cream-colored outfits to some fifty-five lads who have been practicing for nearly two months for places on the four teams in this brand-new local enterprise started three years ago as Little Bigger League baseball for 13-, 14- and 15-year old boys. The name was changed last year to avoid confusion with the Little League program and as homage to Babe Ruth, the idol of millions of boys of all ages.

Last Saturday morning the Variety Store nine defeated Super Market in an abbreviated practice game by a 2-0 score. Barry Petroff singles in Ronnie DonBullian, who had also singled, for the first run, and Billy Morin set the stage for the last run with a one-baser. Morin was powered home on a mighty three-base blast by right-fielder Bill "Jolly" Estep, emulating the great Bambino.

This coming Saturday morning will be dress rehearsal for the coming season. In order to comply with National Babe Ruth League requirements coach Moore wants

Pre-Primary Meeting Hears County Hopefuls

County primary candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties spoke briefly last Monday night at Bladensburg Junior High School, at the invitation of the Prince Georges County League of Women Voters. On June 28 (Primary Day) these candidates will vie for nomination by their party for State Senator, House Delegate, County Commissioner, and Treasurer.

Greenbelt's Mayor Frank J. Lastner spoke for himself and the rest of his slate endorsed by the Democratic State Central Committee (Baggett, Clagett, Perrie and Reichelt) to run for the five County Commissioner seats. Mayor Lastner pointed to his twelve years with the Greenbelt City Council as good experience in municipal government. In response to a question regarding the home-rule issue, he declared for municipal home rule, praising Greenbelt's city manager. He said he also favored county home-rule with the reservation that he is opposed to a county manager, because that would "put too much power in the hands of one man." At another point, Mayor Lastner said he wants the county to attract industry, and remarked that Greenbelt's Master Plan allowed for light industry in certain areas, and that the sale of this land for industrial purposes is being negotiated right now.

Republican Thomas E. Latimer, running for re-election to the Board of County Commissioners, spoke for himself and his slate (Abbott, Hicks, Marton and Waters), expressing pride in the record of the current commissioners.

Democrat Irma Bogdanoff of Chillum, a County Commissioner candidate, pointed up the need for more efficient government, and mentioned the Treasurer's bill as proof of the need for a merit system for county employees. In response to a later question, she stated that although Prince Georges County has fine roads, waterways, and facilities of value to industry, it has not used salesmanship to tell outsiders about them. Latimer reminded everyone that whenever industries have tried to locate in the county, neighbors to the particular site made vigorous protests to the Commissioners, and so discouraged this.

Betty L. Tayman of Cheverly, Democratic candidate for nomination to the State Central Committee of her party, spoke privately to those leaving the meeting at the end of the evening. She said she opposed the hand-picking of nominees by a few top machine politicians, and is in favor of "open primaries" to give voters a choice of candidates. In her opinion, the State Central Committees ought not to dictate nominees to registered voters, but should merely act as a clearing house for gripes and policy-making. She deplores the practice of handing the voters cards with names on them as they go to vote, as though they were "two years old" and had to be told what to do.

as she pursues her duties in training teachers-in-service.

When Mrs. Reed was asked what help interested parents could give the schools through the P-TA, she said the big problem immediately ahead is integration, and that parents could do a lot to smooth the way toward a good adjustment.

In recognition of Mrs. Reed's services in the county and particularly in Greenbelt, the Center School P-TA presented her with a framed water-color of the school building, painted by Mrs. Betty Reznikoff.

Opening Game

Athletics 17—Coop 0. Winning pitcher, McCauley, who held the Coop to 1 hit, struck out 12, banded out 2 homers and a pair of singles for a perfect day at bat with 3 RBI's. This marvelous batting performance was almost matched by Young Steele who slammed out a homer, a triple and a double for 3 out of 4 and batted in 6 runs. Right behind them was Tucker with a homer and 2 singles out of 4 times at bat. Sharp, and only Coop hitter Hodges, wound up the extra base hitters with doubles. The catching of Sherer was exceptionally good, he showed mid-season form in addition to getting a single. The Coop's goose was cooked in the 2nd and 4th when the Athletics opened up with a barrage of 7 runs in each inning. Umpire-Tierney.

June 1
Athletics 31—Wildcats 6. Winning pitcher, Emmert, who seems to have done a little hitting, he only got 5 hits in 5 times, with 2 triples and 9 RBI's and held the Wildcats to 5 hits. June 3
Indians 15—Pirates 2. Winning pitcher, Byers, who struck out 13, hit a triple and single and held the Pirates to 3 hits, two of which were doubles by Shaver and Sharp. Day held the Indians to 4 hits but 3 errors by the Pirates cost them the game. The Indians had no errors. Umpire-Canning.

Coop 15—Wildcats 8. Winning pitcher, Thompson. The batting hero of the game was O'Neill who got 3 for 4, a homer, triple and 7 RBI's. His home and triple came with the bases loaded. Hogan and Ailstock got 2 singles each. The Wildcats' 8 errors cost them the game. Umpire-Canning.

The Long View

By A. C. Long

At the last board meeting of GVHC, our sometimes choleric tempered president blew his top because I was mildly impertinent enough to question some of the actions taken by the board in the last few months. "Why are you so suspicious?" he ranted.

The more I thought about his courteous inquiry, the more convinced I became that he probably really doesn't know why a board member should be alert, and sometimes suspicious, in his honest efforts to protect all the members of the corporation. I think he is entitled to an answer, and so are all the members of GVHC.

I was suspicious of the unseemly pell-mell haste with which certain persons rushed the original sale of Greenbelt homes to GVHC. There was no doubt in my mind that we should progress with caution and deliberation, bargain shrewdly with PHA, and carefully work out the many legal, administrative and fiscal problems inherent in a transaction of this magnitude and intricacy. Of course, many of the "civic leaders" who hustled us into the deal have left town and are now living in their "own homes." The fact that PHA later sold the apartments for about 25% less than the appraisal figure is a pretty good indication that we could have bought our home for 25% less and secured many other concessions with respect to maintenance upkeep, heating equipment, etc. (And I think we should still petition PHA and Congress for an adjustment in the price.) When this matter is discussed now, however, I get the answer - "Well, maybe you were right, but that's water over the dam."

I was suspicious when a couple of former board members precipitately urged the board to agree to the organization of Greenbelt Community Builders, forgetting to tell us that they had already incorporated and elected themselves to the board of this new corporation. Now, one year and $27,000 later, we find that the members of GVHC have no legal control over this outfit; and again, the answer is "Well, maybe you were right, but that's water over the dam."

I was suspicious when we put up $4,500 on the "sample model house." Now we find that no one on the board is sure of what real legal security we have for this money; and again, the answer is "What can we do, that's water over the dam."

I am now suspicious of the recent action of the board in extending the past-due notes of G.C.B. and giving them $3,000 for sales and advertising expenses. I am also suspicious of the organization of another in our long list of corporations, namely, the Greenbelt Land Improvement Corporation. (We'll soon have more corporations per capita than Delaware.) The organization of this corporation will remove from the board of GVHC, and even more so from its members, all direct control over the development of the undeveloped land. One of the by-laws already approved by this new outfit is:

"Compensation of Directors and Members of Committees"

8. Directors and members of standing committees shall receive such compensation for attendance at each regular or special meeting as the board may from time to time prescribe. The board members of GVHC don't even have this authority because the membership wisely reserved this privilege for itself.

Another of the by-laws approved by the new corporation is:

"Powers of Directors"

"5. The board of directors shall have, in addition to such powers as are hereinafter expressly conferred on it, all such powers as may be exercised by the corporation, subject to the provisions of the statute, the certificate of incorporation and the by-laws.

"The board of directors shall have power:

"To purchase or otherwise acquire property, rights or privileges for the corporation, which the corporation has power to take, at such prices and on such terms as the board of directors may deem proper.

"To pay for such property, rights or privileges in whole or in part with money, stock, bonds, debentures or other securities of the corporation, or by the delivery of other property of the corporation.

"To create, make and issue mortgages, bonds, deeds of trust, trust agreements and negotiable or transferable instruments and securities, secured by mortgages or otherwise, and to do every act and thing necessary to effectuate the same.

"To appoint agents, clerks, assistants, factors, employees and trustees, and to dismiss them at its discretion, to fix their duties and emoluments and to change them from time to time and to require security as it may deem proper.

"To confer on any officer or manager of the corporation the power of selecting, discharging or suspending such employees.

"To determine by whom and in what manner the corporation's bills, notes, receipts, acceptances, endorsements, checks, releases, contracts, or other documents shall be signed."

How long will it be before the "water is over the dam" on this one, and do we have to suffer a series of dams in conducting the GVHC business? I realize that I'm often wrong—but it's better to be suspicious than riding over a dam in a leaky boat.
